Table notes

This table is a guide to courses and admissions criteria via the University of Sydney Preparation Programs at the University of Sydney for entry in 2028. It is correct at the time of print and may be subject to change. For the latest course information, visit the University of Sydney 'Find a Course' website: sydney.edu.au/courses

For courses that have other admissions criteria listed in addition to the GPA, including double degrees with progression requirements visit the 'Find a course' website for full details.

Refer to the intakes available for the University of Sydney courses as students must start the course of their choice in the immediate subsequent semester of completing the foundation/preparation program. A gap in the study period cannot occur.

International students on a Student Visa (Subclass 500) must remain enrolled in a CRICOS-registered course at the same or higher AQF level. A new visa is required before enrolment in a lower-level degree at the University of Sydney.

Feb - offered in the February semester (Semester 1) only.
Feb/ Aug - offered in both the February (Semester 1) or August (Semester 2) semesters

Key to symbols

^HAPP students are required to note the University of Sydney assumed knowledge in making their subject selections. For more information, visit the 'Find a course' website: sydney.edu.au/courses

+Students commencing combined law degrees in Semester 2 will not be able to start the law component until Semester 1 of the following year.

#Nursing pre-registration courses have English requirements set by the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council (ANMAC).
For details, check the English requirements on the course page - sydney.edu.au/courses

*This course has inherent requirements - sydney.edu.au/students/inherent-requirements.

[1] These courses have a limited number of places or the GPA listed is the minimum to be considered for an offer.
It is possible that not all students will be offered a place or be able to accept an offer once course capacity is reached or may be offered an alternative course choice.
